Amendment to the Examination Regulations for the Degree Program European Master in Law and Economics (LLM) of the Faculty of Law at Universität Hamburg

dated 22 April 2020

On 11 May 2020 in accordance with Section 108 subsection 1 of the Hamburg higher education act (Hamburgisches Hochschulgesetz, HmbHG) dated 18 July 2001 (HmbGVBl. p. 171) as amended on 24 January 2020 (HmbGVBl. p. 93) the Executive University Board at Universität Hamburg ratified the amendment to the Examination Regulations for the degree program European Master in Law and Economics (LLM) dated 14 December 2016 as adopted by the Faculty of Law on 22 April 2020 in accordance with Section 91 subsection 2 no. 1 HmbHG in accordance with the General Examination Regulations for Academic Examinations at Universität Hamburg dated 25 January 2018, 22 February 2018, and 8 November 2018.

Section 1

The Examination Regulations for the degree program European Master in Law and Economics shall be amended as follows:

1. In Section 6, the following is added as subsection 4:

“Courses in each module may be organized and taught as classroom, blended learning, or e-learning courses.”

2. Section 7 shall be amended as follows:

2.1 In Section 7 subsection 2 the words “or a take home exam of at least three hours” shall be inserted after the words “written examination.”

2.2 In Section 7, the following is added as subsection 5:

“In appropriate cases, module examinations may be administered with the support of electronic media using electronic documentation (electronic coursework and examinations). Within the scope of electronic coursework and exams, examinations may be designed as so-called open-book or take-home examinations (materials such as books and recordings may be utilized in the examination setting). Before an electronic examination is taken, the examiner must always ensure that electronic data can be clearly identified and uniquely and permanently ascribed to individual students. Delivery of examination protocols and data storage devices to degree program coordination serves as sufficient evidence of this.

Section 2

The amendments shall become effective on the day following official publication by Universität Hamburg. They shall apply to students commencing their studies from Winter Semester 2019/2020.
